

Media Release: Australia-China Belt & Road Initiative is now service provider to the Department of Economic Development, Jobs, Transport & Resources of the Victorian Government

The Australia-China Belt & Road Initiative (ACBRI) is proud to announce our new position as a service provider to the Department of Economic Development, Jobs, Transport & Resources of the Victorian Government.

ACBRI's relationship of mutual recognition with the Victorian Government began its development early last year, during preparations for ACBRI's notably successful inaugural Belt and Road infrastructure delegation to China.

This year, ACBRI will play an advisor role to the Department of Economic Development, Jobs, Transport & Resource and the Department of Premier and Cabinet on the Belt and Road Forum and related Belt and Road opportunities for Victoria. ACBRI is very proud to serve the Departments in an official capacity, to bring home Victoria a new frontier of international development.

With the support from the Victorian Government, ACBRI will also set up a new headquarter in Melbourne before the end of 2017.
